Ways to Give

Charitable Bequests

Including a charitable bequest in your will is a simple way to make a significant contribution that may have not been possible during your lifetime. When you name Greater Worcester Community Foundation as a charitable beneficiary, you may reduce your estate taxes while continuing your charitable giving. You can choose to give a specified dollar amount, property, a percentage of your estate or the remainder after distributions to other beneficiaries.

Charitable Gift Annuity

A charitable gift annuity allows you to arrange a generous gift to your favorite charities, while providing yourself a steady income. You transfer assets to the Foundation in exchange for a tax deduction and an income of fixed annuity payments for the rest of your life.

Charitable IRA Rollover (during life)

A Charitable IRA rollover (or QCD - Qualified Charitable Distribution) allows you to direct up to $100,000 from your traditional IRA to the community foundation tax-free.

Charitable Remainder Trust

Giving through a charitable remainder trust allows you, or someone you select, to receive income for the rest of your life. Assets are transferred into a trust, and the trust pays you or a beneficiary regular income payments. Upon the beneficiary's death or a defined period of years, the remaining assets are transferred to a new or existing fund at the Foundation. While similar to a charitable gift annuity, a charitable remainder trust provides more options for payout methods.

Gifts of Retained Life Estate

You may donate a residence, farm or other land as a future gift and continue using the property throughout your lifetime. You receive a partial income tax deduction and reduced estate taxes.

IRA, 401(k), or other Qualified Retirement Plan Assets

Deferred income tax and estate tax can erode the value of your retirement assets. By transferring these assets to the Foundation upon your death, you can preserve 100% for causes you care about.

Life Insurance

A gift of life insurance provides a simple way to establish your legacy by giving a significant gift to charity, while enjoying tax benefits during your lifetime.

Planned Giving

Making a planned gift to Greater Worcester Community Foundation is a creative and effective form of philanthropy, ensuring your generosity will leave a legacy and a local impact for generations to come.

By leaving a gift to the Foundation in your will or trust, you become a member of our legacy Acorn Society.

Working with our dedicated philanthropic services staff, you can specify exactly how you would like your estate gift to be used and trust that your wishes will be carried out. You can also choose to leave your estate gift to our discretionary grantmaking pool, where it will be used to address changing needs in Worcester County under the careful stewardship of our grantmaking team.

As an Acorn Society member, you have the flexibility to make changes to your gift at no cost as your desires evolve. Members are also invited to Foundation events throughout each year and have ongoing access to our resources, publications, and expertise in Worcester County's nonprofit landscape.

Joining is simple: notify us that you have included the Foundation in your estate plans or will. If needed, we can collaborate with you and your advisors to craft a tax-smart gift that achieves your desired impact.

There is no minimum level to make a planned gift and Acorn Society membership is lifelong, complimentary and more than 100 strong. We hope you will join us.

Henry Ritter and Mark Bilotta Henry and Mark have named the Foundation as a beneficiary of their family trust.

Both Henry and Mark have been actively involved in the community for more than three decades. Between the two of them, they've served as board chairs for four nonprofits.

Henry and Mark, a Foundation corporator and volunteer, trust the Foundation as an effective steward of their legacy.
